

Giovanna Maria Gatti, MD

Born 1970, consultant Division of Breast Surgery.

Medical doctor at the University of Milan, specialized in General Surgery with a University Master Degree in Breast Surgery, she is also specialized in Radiotherapy. As a collateral study, the University Degree in "Psychology of the Work and of the Organizations" is ongoing.

She has been Assistant in the Division of Breast Surgery at the European Institute of Oncology and Medical Advisor to the Scientific Director (prof. Umberto Veronesi) till 2014. She had also the role of Responsible of the Web Communication of the same Institution from 2012 to 2014. Currently, she is consultant in the Division of Breast Surgery and professional writer for science, medicine and fiction.